

Thursday 7th October is National Poetry Day!

For your homework this week you will be learning and reciting a poem from Tiger Tiger. On Thursday we will be reciting our poem in class.

NIGHT CAT

She's there by the fence
but you mustn't call out, like a scoop of night
or a water shadow
tense for flight
she'll twist and go,
don't open your mouth—
the moon's so close
that the stars blow out—
you turn she's gone
leaving that patch
where the moon shone
leaving the empty
dress of night
with the stars picked out and you alone.

Helen Dunmore

