

Le chien très gourmand

(The Very Greedy Dog)

Un beau jour, un petit chien se réveille.

Il a très faim.

À neuf heures, il mange une pomme.

Mais il a encore faim.

À dix heures, il mange deux poires.

Mais il a encore faim.

À onze heures, il mange trois prunes.

Mais il a encore faim.

À douze heures, il mange quatre fraises.

Mais il a encore faim.

À treize heures, il mange cinq oranges.

Mais il a encore faim.

À quatorze heures, il mange du gâteau, une glace, un cornichon, un morceau de fromage et du saucisson.

Mais il a encore faim.

À quinze heures, il mange une sucette, de la tarte aux cerises, une saucisse, une brioche et de la pastèque.

À seize heures, le chien très gourmand a mal au ventre.

Il se couche.

À dix-huit heures, c'est l'heure du dîner.

Mais il ne mange rien!

One day, a little dog wakes up.

He is very hungry.

At nine o'clock, he eats an apple,

But he is still hungry.

At ten o'clock, he eats two pears.

But he is still hungry.

At eleven o'clock, he eats three plums.

But he is still hungry.

At twelve o'clock, he eats four strawberries.

But he is still hungry.

At one o'clock, he eats five oranges.

But he is still hungry.

At two o'clock, he eats some cake, an ice cream, a gherkin, some cheese and some salami.

But he is still hungry.

At three o'clock, he eats a lollipop, some cherry pie, a sausage, a brioche bun and some watermelon.

At four o'clock, the very greedy dog has tummy ache.

He goes to bed.

At six o'clock, it is dinner time.

But he doesn't eat anything!
