

Year 4 Home Learning for Week Commencing 7th February 2022

Science

LO: To explain the functions of the digestive system.

Task 1- On the first slide of the lesson presentation, match the labels to the correct part of the digestive system.

Task 2- Complete the Digestive system functions ideas activity sheet, before you continue reading the lesson presentation. Jot down your ideas about how each part of the digestive system helps you absorb food. Use the lesson presentation to find out about how each part of the digestive system operates. Mark your predictions as you go- how accurate were you?

Task 3- Choose and complete the right challenge activity for you to show what you have learned about the digestive system.

Plenary- Have a go at the digestive system quiz!

Additional challenge- research which vitamins and minerals are important for healthy digestion. Which foods are they found in?

Topic

LO: To learn about the Battle of Britain.

This lesson we will focus on the Battle of Britain. Follow the lesson presentation and answer the given questions, as well as watching the video clips linked.

Task 1. What do you already know about this topic? Begin a mind map of information about the battle. You can add more information as you learn more.

Task 2. Carefully examine the sources provided in the 'sources for pupils' resource. Evaluate how useful and how reliable each one might be in learning about the battle.

Task 3. Independent research. Use the provided web resources to learn more about the battle. You can choose your own research question or use one from the lesson presentation. Add any new facts to your mind map!

Plenary- Test your knowledge in the 'Battle of Britain, true or false?' quiz.

Optional Challenge: Predict what you think might have happened if the RAF was destroyed.
