Red	Writing: Can you write a letter to me telling me some of the lovely things you did in the Easter holidays? Don't forget to begin with 'Dear' and finish with 'kind regards' or 'yours sincerely'. Don't forget to sound out each word using your sound mats and word walls to help you. Maybe mummy or daddy could take a photograph of your letter and post it on tapestry for me to read? I would love to hear about your holidays!	Red	Writing: Can you write a letter to me telling me some of the lovely things you did in the Easter holidays? Don't forget to begin with 'Dear' and finish with 'kind regards' or 'yours sincerely'. Use different sentence starters and some exciting adjectives too. Maybe mummy or daddy could take a photograph of your letter and email it for me to read? I would love to hear about your holidays!
Blue	Maths: When it's time for a treat (chocolate or sweets!) see if you can share your goodies equally with your brother/sister or mummy/daddy. Talk with your family about what equal means, how do you know you both have the same? How could you check?	Blue	Maths: When it's time for a treat (chocolate or sweets!) see if you can share your goodies equally with your brother/sister or mummy/daddy. Talk with your family about what equal means, how do you know you both have the same? How could you check? Can you write one half as a fraction? (1/2)
Orange	Art / DT: Look for a simple recipe to make with your family. It could be something sweet like biscuits or cake, or savoury like pizza or a pasta dish. Talk with your family about how to be safe when preparing food. Why is hand washing important? How do we use appliances safely? Why do we wear aprons? How should we hold a knife safely?	Orange	Art / DT: Look for a simple recipe to make with your family. It could be something sweet like biscuits or cake, or savoury like pizza or a pasta dish.
