

Circle the verb

Traction Man was running on the playground.
He jumped on the grass. He could see children playing and skipping.

Then a dog came leaping over and started licking
Traction Man's face. Traction man did not like this. He zoomed out of the playground and decide to fly back home.

Circle the verb

Traction Man was running on the playground.
He jumped on the grass. He could see children
playing and skipping.

Then a dog came leaping over and started licking
Traction Man's face. Traction man did not like this. He zoomed out of the playground and decide to fly back home.